

Wwwhhheewww! We made it through Super Bowl weekend! Teri and I wanted to thank all of you who joined us for the sale. We hope you've had a blast with all your fun, new goodies. From talking to some of you, it was Christmas all over again. I can just picture you going home, dumping the bag out on the floor and admiring your prowess and getting some really GOOD stuff!!! It make us laugh! We really appreciate your patience with us in the checkout line, but I understand that some of you made new friends! So it's not all bad. As you can see, it's good we moved some stuff out, as the new stuff is rolling in daily! This is a new red/cream line from Minick & Simpson of Farmhouse Reds. The projects are super cute!

Just a few things to inform you. If you were at the sale, you might have noticed the new projects we have for Block of the Month. Garden of a King was hanging right behind the check out and for those of you that were interested, we are going to have the STARTER CLASS (to give you a leg up on the English Paper Piecing and any tips that we have for you) on SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 24th. We'll start class at 10:00 am. Registration is required. If you are interested, give us a shout. There is no charge if you have or are going to register for the Garden of a King BOM.

Save the dates ... Carrie Golias from Carried Away Designs will be here to teach wool appliqué the weekend of June 7th & 8th. We're hammering out the details now so will get back with you about the specifics later. Just wanted, for those who are interested. to have you mark it on the calendar.
